 Issac Goldens HP Program
Isaac has been preparing and researching homeopathic immunisations programs since 1985/86. His data collection from 1986 to 2004 is the world’s largest long-term study of HP. His aim has been to offer parents immunisation options and choices which are safe, but which also have a well documented evidence base. The program he will discuss at the seminar has been scrutinised by researchers with orthodox medical training, and whilst no method of immunisation can ever be 100% effective, data shows that an appropriate long-term HP program can provide a level of protection similar to that of vaccination. However because no method can ever be perfect, the shortcoming as well as the strengths will be fully discussed

In his own practice, Isaac specialises in treating patients suffering from chronic disease using constitutional and anti-miasmic homoeopathic treatment. He also specialises in the treatment of vaccine-damaged children, especially autistic and ADHD children.

Isaac is a world authority on homoeoprophylaxis - the use of homoeopathic medicines for specific infectious disease prevention, and has undertaken the world’s largest long-term study of parents using such a program. In 2004 he completed a PhD research program at the GSIM, Swinburne University, Melbourne, studying homoeoprophylaxis. This was the first time a mainstream Australian University granted a PhD for research on a homoeopathic topic.
